*"Primary Heat Source" shall be defined so as to be limited to a gas pack, gas furnace, or Gas space heater, provided such heat source has a minimum rating of 50,000 BTUs. Other heat sources may qualify as a "Primary Heat Source" if CPW gives written approval in advance. Gas as auxiliary heat for a heat pump, gas logs, or similar types of heat DOES NOT qualify as a "Primary Heat Source". When appliance(s) are connected to CPW Natural gas and turned on, incentive(s) will be paid to builder (for new construction) or to homeowner (for conversions), [provided the builder or residential owner does not have any outstanding bills with CPW, in which case, the incentive will be applied first to any amount owed to CPW]. Proof of purchase (if applicable), installation and service connection must be verified by CPW prior to payment of any incentive. Such proof must be provided to CPW, to its satisfaction, within six (6) months after installation of the gas appliance in order for the residential owner or builder to receive any incentive.
